Eval. Notes: An LQG HW Standard Compliance and a RMW inspections were conducted. The previous RCRA HW inspections were conducted on 7/11/13 with multiple RMW violations for labeling and handling and on 7/27/16 for hazardous waste manifest violations. Zeus Scientific (Zeus) manufactures invitro, autoimmune & infectious disease diagnostic medical devices and test kits. There are three (3) product lines developed consisting of 1) IFA line (immuno -fluorescence assays) and coated microscope slides; this kit includes cellular tissue fixed to glass microscope slides, 2) Elisa line that are plates coated in an antigen and 3) Athena line that develops multiple assays within one kit and is used for multiple assays. These kits are sold to diagnostic centers and hospitals. The production of these kits is done on lab bench-top format. Zeus has a location at 200 Evans Way and is strictly manufacturing activities as oppose to the one above (199 Evans Way) that conducts manufacturing and R&D activities in one large segmented contracted production lab. The labs are separated into contracted production lab area and guided by their own activities: IFA tissue culture lab, Athena production lab and QC lab. The rest of the building has offices, HW storage area, product & raw material storage rooms, warehouse and loading dock area. Non-acute hazardous waste is generated from the production of IFA test kits. Acetone and methanol baths are used to affix the cellular tissue to the slides. Once the cells are fixed to the slide, the spent baths are handled as (F003/D001) hazardous waste. They also generate waste lab packed chemicals (varied D, P & U codes) from the labs. Universal Waste (bulbs, batteries, consumer electronics) is managed as a recyclable material. No used oil is generated on site and no stewardship efforts were noted at this time. Regulated Medical Waste (RMW) is generated at a Category 5 (>1000 lbs/yr) generating Class 1 - culture & stock waste and Class 4 - shar

Eval. Notes: Zeus Scientific manufactures autoimmune and infectious disease testing kits. This facility produces three (3) test kits: IFA, ELISA and AtheNA. These kits are sold to diagnostic laboratories and hospitals. The production of these test kits is done on laboratory bench-tops. IFA test kit includes cellular tissue fixed to glass microscope slides. ELISA test kit includes plates coated in an antigen. AtheNA test kit is for used for multiple assays. The site encompasses a one (1) story building that houses offices, contract production laboratory, AtheNA production laboratory, QC laboratory, IFA - tissue culture laboratory, designated hazardous waste storage area (HWSA), product & raw material storage rooms, warehouse area and loading dock. Zeus generates Large Quantity Generator (LQG) amounts of non-acute hazardous waste from the production of IFA test kits. Zeus uses acetone and methanol baths to fix the cellular tissue to the slide. Once the cells are fixed to the slide, the spent baths are handled as F003/D001 hazardous waste. At a lesser extent, Zeus generates Waste laboratory packed chemicals (varied D, P & U codes) from the laboratories. Zeus also generates Category 5 amounts (> 1,000 lbs./year) of Regulated Medical Waste (RMW). The RMW generated consist of Class 1 - Waste Cultures & Stocks and Class 4 - Waste sharps. Finally, Zeus generates Small Quantity Handler (SQH) amounts of universal waste - batteries and lamps. The last hazardous waste inspection was conducted on 5/1/13, RCRA violations were issued. On 7/28/16, a Notice of Violation (NOV) was issued for manifest recordkeeping violation. As part of this report, details on this compliance inspection are described on subsequent checklists. See NRO RCRA File # 18-05-78 for the attachments listed. ATTACHMENTS: A. Copy of 2016 RMW Annual Report B. NOV issued 7/28/16 (four pages)
